Remember you need to make accommodation reservations for yourselves. These were largely chosen off Cyclists Touring Club website or the Internet, and are all in "quiet" places therefore easier to find, and less likely to be targeted by bike thieves, a problem in the cities. They can all offer somewhere to store our bikes as well. If they are full there are usually other B&Bs or Youth Hostels nearby. Sutherland was the trickiest – the well known Crask Inn is full and I found a B&B a few miles further on in Altnaharra.

Usual advice for cycle tourists is to travel light, have at least a spare inner tube, and check your bike is in good working order before you set off.

I look forward to your company!

Christine
